When a community rallies together, everything is possible.

In 2009, seven-year-old Jeneece (now Frankie) Edroff embarked on a penny fundraiser to build a home away from home for families seeking health care in Victoria. People said this would happen “when pigs fly”, but one little kid’s perseverance rallied the community and turned a dream into reality: Jeneece Place in Victoria, which inspired Q̓w̓alayu House in Campbell River.

Since 2021, the When Pigs Fly Radiothon has raised over $154,640 for Q̓w̓alayu House, a Home away from home offering comfort, safety, and affordability to north Island families needing maternal and pediatric care in the city.

With your support, together we can increase access to health care for Island kids and families. Please join us!

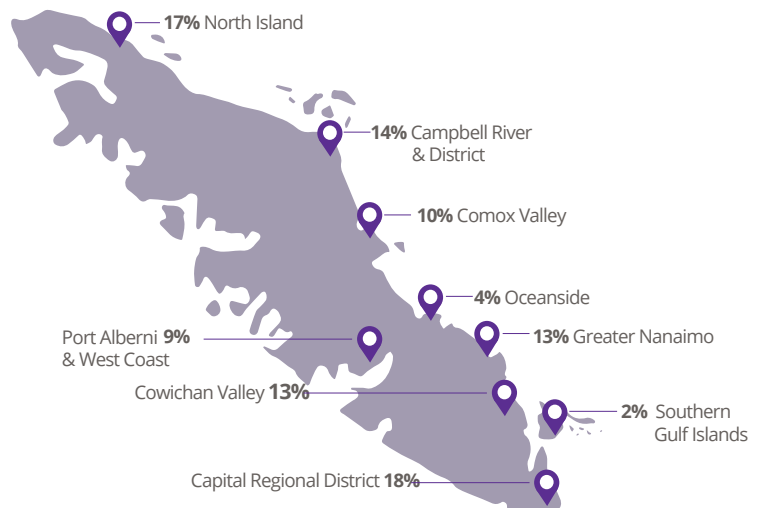

100% of your sponsorship stays on the Island to support Island families

What your sponsorship makes possible.

Children’s Health Foundation of Vancouver Island supports Jeneece Place in Victoria and Q̓w̓alayu House in Campbell River, accommodating families from across the islands who must travel for their child’s health care. The Foundation also provides direct financial support to families with children who need specialized equipment or need to travel to health care appointments through our Bear Essentials program.

Our support of families is truly islands-wide. Here’s a breakdown of where our support went in 2023:
